

Paralysis Is Not Nerve Death, for It Is Curable.

From the Journal, Lewiston, Mich.
Patrick Doyle, a man more than seventy years of age, called at this office recently and gave a remarkable account. Everyone knows the nature of paralysis and how difficult it is to cure, so that his testimony is extremely interesting. He said:

"About six or seven years ago I was afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism, contracted while at work in a Manistee saw mill, and had to quit work on that account. Then came a long time of despair for me. My lower limbs became numb and cold and I lost the use of them almost entirely. For a long time I was unable to stand on my feet without support. For four years I could not think of doing any kind of work."
"I treated with many eminent doctors without deriving any benefit. I spent more than $100 in one summer for medical treatment which failed to help me. The local doctors could not give me any encouragement, and, in fact, did not know what my ailment was. I became tired of doctoring, and for a year I did nothing for my trouble, considering that my case was hopeless. By this time the life was gone out of my legs, and I could not bend them at all, the cords being hard as bone. The cold occasioned me great pain. I could not walk at night, and when I moved around in the daytime I had to watch the ground each step, and then could only hobble along with the use of a cane."

"Hope had about gone out of my life when I read in my local paper of persons whom I knew having been cured of similar cases by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so I tried them, and in a short time I could climb the stairs with ease, a thing I could not do before for years. I did not give them a fair trial, however, until a year ago, and after using a few boxes, the life came into my limbs and feet, and I was soon able to resume work. I can now bend my legs and straighten my back, which I had not done for years previous to the use of the pills. I consider myself completely cured, and give the entire credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I most cheerfully recommend them to the use of all persons afflicted with similar diseases."

To confirm his story beyond all doubt, Mr. Doyle made the following affidavit:
Sworn and subscribed before me, April 20th, 1905.
FRED. H. M'ULLEN,
Justice of the Peace.
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are for sale by all druggists, or may be had by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., for 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

French are Stay-at-Homes.
One reason why the French are not successful in colonizing is found in their intense attachment to their birth place. Americans will be surprised to learn that 21,000,000 of the 38,000,000 inhabitants of France live in the towns where they were born.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fall Medicine

Is fully as important and as beneficial as Spring Medicine, for at this season there is great danger to health in the varying temperature, cold storms, malarial germs, prevalence of fevers and other diseases. All these may be avoided if the blood is kept pure, the digestion good, and bodily health vigorous by taking

Hood's Sarsaparilla

The One True Blood Purifier.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, headaches, etc.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs. Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

THE PEOPLE'S MONEY

ARE you for silver?—For the money of the fathers of our land; For the mintage of the Federal Constitution pure and grand; It was Jefferson who penned the law, while Hamilton concurred; The pen of Washington signed the act. Free coinage! None demurred.

Are you for silver?—For the money that was known As the money of the nation, as to greatness it has grown?—Money that was ever welcome At the mints of Government And coined free to do its duty When among the people sent.

Are you for silver?—For the money, standard from the nation's birth, Equal everywhere with gold, in its service and its worth; Circulating on a parity wherever it was sent, Taken gladly by the people wherever commerce went.

Are you for silver?—For the metal that was given equal right At the mints till Satan's Masterpiece conspired the land to blight And arranged a plan with money kings To re-enslave the free By contracting what they owned one-half. In eighteen and seventy-three.

Are you for silver?—Do you know that, with only gold enthroned, Gold has to do the work of both of 1873 should be as speedily wiped off the statute books and the law coining both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 be enacted without respect to international agreement?

"Money of the World."
Those 135,000 Americans who went to "Yurru" the past season—did they load themselves down with "intrinsic value," 200-cent, "money-of-the-world" gold dollars, that are "just as good in one part of the globe as another" and "are never known to fluctuate in value"? Not a bit of it. They simply went to certain banks in New York where they deposited their gold, silver, greenbacks, silver certificates, national bank notes, bank drafts on Chicago and other large cities—or whatever money they happened to have in their possession—exchanged it for foreign letters of credit or drafts on banks of whatever country or countries they wished to visit, paid the discount or "exchange" and got aboard an ocean steamer with as little concern as though taking a trip from New York to Charleston.

Probably not a dollar of gold in their pockets, and yet no worry lest they shall not be able to meet all demands against them in any country on the globe. In securing this monetary peace of mind they are no more indebted to the yellow metal that is supposed to be worth thirty times its weight in silver Cornered and by schemers owned? That mortgages have but increased All other values shrank. The values that were helped not hurt Were the values of the bank?

Are you for silver?—Do you see, the standard cut in twain, All values shrink to correspond with the half that does remain? Now silver is but credit coin Redeemable in gold No longer standard money Helping prices to uphold.

Are you for silver?—Higher prices for the products of your soil, Hope you, with contracted standard—Higher wages for your toil? 'Twas a scheme to rob the seller, And his labor must be sold By the workingman, In prices measured only by the gold.

Are you for silver?—If much money measured by the precious gold Were in your possession, neighbor, You need scarcely be told You might desire it bring you much In commodities you bought, Getting more in products, labor, More in justice, than it ought.

Are you for silver?—Then, no doubt, you understand The misleading phrase "sound money" Means dear money for this land, And low prices for all products—Labor to be included here—Will you vote that you be poorer, And the rich man's money dear?

Are you for silver?—Help you then to right this wrong. Can the goldbugs further trick you? Can you stand these hard times long? Do you think this once proud nation Needs protection in the rule Of a Rothschild British combine With sly Wall street for a tool?

Are you for silver?—Don't forget it when it comes convention day. Get there, stay there, watch the schemers, Beat them. Boldly have your say. Then, no matter what your party, Work for silver with your might, Organize, "Be up and doing!" Get you ready for the fight!

Are you for silver?—Suffer not a slothful rest, Guard your home and country, freeman. Rouse your neighbor; do your best. Britain and her scheming servants Must be met with bravery. Are you for America?—for silver or for slavery?—American Bimetallist.

Bob Taylor for Silver.

Ex-Gov. Bob Taylor, who filled his way into Congress and later into the executive chair of the State of Tennessee, in a late characteristic speech in Washington had this to say on the silver question: "While I am practically out of politics, I am still a patriot, taking as keen an interest in the affairs of state as I ever did. And while I have always been in favor of the double standard as our national financial policy, my recent travels over this country and my business experience and observation of the needs and desires of the people have impressed me more than ever that the enormous outrage than they are to the "fifty-cent" dollars and "promise-to-pay dollars" that are so loudly decry by the "money-of-the-world" yawper. Doubtless in their whole European tour they will not lay their fingers on a single gold coin, American or foreign.

Had these tourists taken American gold to Europe they would have had to exchange it for other money, doubtless at a greater discount than that paid in New York. American gold coin in England will not pass current until the American eagle has been hit over the head, obliterated entirely and the "lion and the unicorn" stamped in its place. They first destroy its money function, make of it a commodity, when it is on the same footing as American silver, American wheat, corn, or beef—then they turn it into English money. American gold coins when sent to foreign countries are either recoined or sent back again. If a man were to land in England or Germany with a ten-dollar greenback, a ten-dollar gold piece, and ten silver dollars—all American money—he could take it to a bank and exchange it for about $29.40 of their currency, and he would get just as much for one kind of money as the other. The discount charged would yield a profit in sending the money back to this country where it all goes at par. Will not the "money-of-the-world" idiot please change his yawp for something sensible?

Chili for Silver.

A new bill formed by the congress of Chili provides for specie payment from June 1, 1895, and as both metals are to be utilized, the change promises to have an important effect upon the world's supply of metals. The president of Chili is empowered for the term of three years to coin $10,000,000 of silver. All of the proceeds from the sale of nitrate beds shall be devoted exclusively to the purchase and coinage of silver. Three gold coins of $20, $10, and $5 are also provided for. The silver dollar is to weigh 20 grams and is to be 835-1000 fine. Silver is to be a legal tender for $50 except to the government where it is received as gold.

Silver's only place is that of primary money, the equal of gold at the doors of the mints before coinage and the equal of gold at the treasury after coinage. Silver must be restored as absolute, unconditional primary money.

Kansas City, Mo., has organized a silver league. Its object is to be the promotion of the cause of free silver at a 16 to 1 ratio. The charter members consist of many of the foremost local business men of both parties.

It is reported that banks participating in the enormously profitable issue have promised to furnish $30,000,000 of gold if necessary for the reserve fund, that another bond issue may not embarrass the administration.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

A TYPE OF NOBLE MANHOOD.

Bishop Whipple Pays a High Tribute to the Indian.

It is not often that a good word is spoken in behalf of the Indian, but when one is it generally comes from among those who know him best. Bishop Whipple, of Montana, has spent many of the best years of his life with the red men, and has studied their lives and habits. The following will therefore be read with interest, coming as it does from one who knows whereof he speaks.

"The Indian is the noblest type of the wild man in the world," says Bishop Whipple. "He recognizes the Great Spirit, believes in a future life, has a passionate love for his children, and will lay down his life for his tribe. He is courteous and hospitable. If his bitterest enemy came to his wigwam he would be treated as an honored guest. The Indian is proverbially honest, unless he is demoralized by drink. In thirty-six years' experience with the Indians I never knew one to tell me a lie, and I never had a thing stolen by one. I asked an Indian once if it was safe to leave my property in my wigwam while I made a distant journey. He laughed and said: 'Quite safe. There isn't a white man within 100 miles of you.' Among themselves the Indians are fond of jokes and often shout with laughter. They are tactless, however, in the presence of the whites."

"In 1862, during the civil war, the Indians learned from pictures which they saw on the traders' counters that the North was at war with the South and was being defeated. When the agent enlisted a company of half-breeds they believed they could recover their lost territory. They commenced a massacre in which 900 people were killed in three weeks. The western border of Minnesota was a trail of blood. Many of the noblest border men I have ever known were cruelly murdered. It was darker than midnight. I shall carry to my grave the warm hospitality of those friends who now sleep in nameless graves. The massacre was the outcome of a long series of neglects and dishonesty, and the only light in the darkness of those days was the fact that the Christian Indians were true as steel. They saved more than 200 white women and children. There are Indians still living whom I love as the bravest knights that ever walked on earth, and who, at the risk of the hatred of their fellows and danger to their lives, never faltered. The same massacre would have taken place on our northern border had it not been for the fact that the Christian Indians gave timely warning of danger, and friendly Indians came to the defence of the whites."

Bushels of Rings Lost.

"It's safe to say that a basketful of finger rings are lost at the seashore every season," said a habitue of the Atlantic coast summer resorts recently. "Many bathers never think to remove their rings from their fingers before taking a plunge in the surf, and when they come out not a few find that the rings have slipped off in the water. Of course, they are irrevocably lost in the sands. If the beach at Atlantic City, for instance, could be thrashed out or sifted, it would yield a gold mine, not to mention a valuable store of precious stones of every kind."

A Silent Appeal for Help.

When your kidneys and bladder are inactive they are making a silent appeal for help. Don't disregard it, but with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters safely impel them to activity. They are in immediate danger, and it is foolishness to shut one's eyes to the fact. germ-life

The doctors tell us, now-a-days, that disease germs are everywhere; in the air, in the water, in our food, clothes, money; that they get into our bodies, live there, thrive and grow, if they find anything to thrive on. Consumption is the destruction of lung-tissue by germs where the lung is too weak to conquer them. The remedy is strength—vital force.

Scott's Emulsion, with hypophosphites, means the adjustment of lung strength to overcome germ-life. It is fighting the germ with the odds in our favor. These tiny little drops of fat-food make their way into the system and re-fresh and re-invigorate it. Whether you succeed with it or not depends on how good a start the germs had, and how carefully you can live. The shortest way to health is the patient one. The gain is often slow.
